The college provides the following method of receiving credit for units toward graduation for high school students:

- A. Enrollment - The student may enroll in a course and master the objectives required for college credit.
- B. Testing – The student may demonstrate proficiency in a course and receive college credit by taking a written examination or any other approved method which shows the student has mastered the objectives of the course. The methods include:

2. Tech Prep – Credit by Exam for High School Classes

The Tech Prep program awards college credit to high school students who earn “A” or “B” in career- related “articulated” high school courses. An articulated course is one in which the high school teacher and the Mt. San Jacinto faculty have “formally agreed” that the high school course outline, syllabus, textbook, midterm and/ or final exam are comparable to those in a course of the same major at Mt. San Jacinto College and that the final exam score will be used as a credit-by-exam for the comparable Mt. San Jacinto College course. (California Education Code section 55753.5) MSJC will not award grade points to the Tech Prep courses and the units cannot exceed nine (9) as applicable to a specific Certificate or Associate degree at graduation or counted in determining the twelve (12) units required for the residency at MSJC. Tech Prep units will be awarded to the high school student’s MSJC transcript within one semester after the high school posts and forwards the high school transcripts to MSJC. MSJC will not require Tech Prep approved students to meet 12-unit residency requirement prior to posting these units.
